

COLLEGE POLICY NOT INVOLVED IN POLITICS

We must see to it that the name of San Jose State college is not used on any side of a political issue emphasized Marty Taylor, Student Body president, as last night's council meeting.

"It also is of no concern of the Student Council, what any individual, or individuals do with their off-campus time, 'so long as they do not link their activities with the names of this school,'" stated Taylor.

STATE SYMPHONY PLAYS TONIGHT IN MORRIS DAILEY

San Jose State college symphonic orchestra presents its quarterly concert tonight at 8:15 in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Eagan, the orchestra, numbering 90 pieces, is recognized as one of the outstanding college groups of its kind.

Featured soloists are Emily Baptista, Carl Dimeff and Bruce Stewart, who are advanced vocastudents in the college Music department. These vocalists appeared recently at the recital held in the college Little Theater.

Mr. Eagan, who makes his 55th appearance with the college orchestra tonight, states that this is the most experienced playing group this college has ever had. "The symphony belongs to the students," says Mr. Eagan, "and we may all be justly proud of this group of musicians."

Tonight's program is as follows

Toccata, Frescobaldi; Eine Kleine Nachtmusik, Mozart; Alceste, Gluck; Die Zauberflöte, Mozart; Mi Chiamano Mimì, Puccini; In Diesen Heiligen Hallen, Mozart; Il Lacerato Spirito, Verdi; Varlaam's Song, Moussorgsky; Death Scene and Farewell of Boris, Moussorgsky; Le Coq d'Or Suite, Rimsky-Korsakov.

Many of the students appearing with the symphony orchestra tonight are also members of the Civic symphony orchestra which plays regularly downtown. The entire group, according to Mr. Eagan, plays expertly.

The concert is open to the public and is free of charge.

Book Exchange Opens March 31

The Student Union will be the scene of next quarter's book exchange, announces Harold Riddle, president of APhiO.

APhIO, national service fraternity, is handling the exchange for the second consecutive quarter.

"Now that we know the ropes, things should run more smoothly," Middle states. "We plan to run the exchange from March 31 to April 7. This will give students a chance to purchase any books they will need in all their courses.

"In order to have the books to sell, we first must obtain them from students who have used them previously, and no longer need certain texts."

A letter which Taylor wrote to Dick Friendlich, of the San Francisco Chronicle, regarding the Mallory affair, and the answer from Friendlich was read. Friendlich devoted his entire "Flashback" column to the situation at San Jose State in a recent issue of the Chronicle.

Nancy Flautt read a letter from Glenn Hartranft, director of athletics thanking the Student Council for their vote of confidence, and would strive for closer cooperation between Mallory, himself and the Spartan Daily.

Swim Instructor To Teach Safety

read.

Mr. Ralph Carlson, director of first aid, water safety, and accident prevention of the Pacific area, wrote the letter commending Miss Spreen's work. He writes that due to her splendid records and the excellent caliber of her work at the national aquatic water schools, and in other safety courses, the Red Cross has granted Miss Spreen the authority to conduct water safety instruction courses at San Jose State college.

Previous to this time, Miss Spreen has taught swim instruction courses, but did not have the authority to test the swimmers in their final hours of instruction and swimming tests.

Carlson also complimented Dr. Palmer very highly on the water safety courses for women at the college.

After hearing defenses put forth by Fred Meischke and Pat well, who are accused of illegal electioneering, and receiving versus Lycurgus magazine, the Student Court went into secret session last night to hand down its decisions.

President of the American Youth for Democracy Ed Kerr, emphatically denied yesterday that his organization sponsored the student picket line in front of the J. C. Penney store last Wednesday.

The first papers which appeared on the campus objected to the allegedly unfair tactics of the J. C. Penney store in enlisting the aid of students to break the AFL strike, and were signed "American Youth for Democracy."

However, students picketing the department store distributed hand-bills demanding the recall of Clifford Swanson, head of Penney's store and Board of Education member. These hand-bills were put out by "A Protesting Students' Committee of San Jose State college."

"This action was not meant to be representative of the student body as a whole," protested Kerr. "As a matter of fact, two members of the 'students' committee' pulled out of the venture when they discovered that AYD members had distributed pamphlets and were going to carry banners in the demonstration. They were afraid that they would receive unfavorable publicity by being connected with the organization in any way."

Kerr admitted that the committee who made up the pamphlets signed by the "students" was

H. S. Seniors To Visit State

San Jose State college students and faculty will be hosts to local high school seniors when the college holds its annual visiting day Thursday.

Purpose of the occasion is to acquaint these students with the many programs of study, activities, and varied services and equipment State college offers, according to James DeVoss, Dean of Student Personnel and Guidance.

Seniors will assemble Thursday at 8:30 in the Morris Day auditorium where they will be welcomed by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, Student Body President Marty Taylor, Dean DeVoss, and Dr. Robert Rhodes. Following the meeting seniors will be escorted on a tour of the campus. After which they will reassemble in the auditorium, where they will be assigned to groups according to the departments in which they are interested. Students appointed by departmental heads will escort the seniors through the various departments answering any questions concerning the department.

Meischke and Miss Bodwell, testifying separately, based their defenses on grounds of ignorance of the constitution which they said they had difficulty in acquiring. Meischke said, "It seems to me that the student body constitutions should be made available to everyone at the time SB cards are sold." Justice Keith Pope reminded the defendant that "ignorance of the law was no excuse."

Acting as attorney for Lyeurgus magazine and its editor, Wes Peyton presented a lengthy demurrer in which the accused declined to plead "because of the vagueness of the allegations." Peyton argued that the constitution does not specifically read that magazine advertising is prohibited on posters tacked on trees between the Library arch and the Coop, and thus Lyeurgus could not rightfully be charged with the crime. Chief Justice Mary Lou Allen answered Peyton's assertions by stating, "It is all in the way the Court chooses to interpret that particular section of the student body constitution.

Before the issue was tabled for a decision by the court, the debate between Chief Justice Allen and Peyton revolved around two points. Miss Allen stated that the Lycurgus staff had shown no inclination to remove the posters when notified by the Court to do so, and Peyton insisted that technically the constitution does not specify that advertising posters are illegal. The decisions will be handed down today.

Today is the last day of the campus Red Cross drive, and the fund lacks $59.82 of reaching the goal, according to Miss Edith Miss Graves reported late yesterday afternoon that the total amount collected was $1660.18. Of that amount she said students had donated $278.26. Faculty contributions add up to $1381.92.

"If any organizations have not turned in their donations they should do so today. We want to reach the goal," said Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, faculty chairman.

Faculty donations will also be accepted tomorrow in the Business office.

Red Cross money is spent in the following manner, according to officials: 75 per cent of the contributions remain in the San Jose community to be spent for the welfare of its citizens, while the remaining 25 per cent goes to the National and International Red Cross to carry on their services.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11 (UP).—Guards at Alcatraz penitentiary, scene of a bloody prison riot last May, have been alerted for possible new trouble today following the firing of a mystery shot from an unidentified small boat late last night.

TRIM THE BUDGET

Although we can't agree in toto with "Buddy" Leitch's most recent contribution about publicity, and the recent "big stink," we can agree when he says, "Tiny" Hartranft, head of the SJS Athletic department . . . felt . . . he should not have to put up with interference from a handful of grippers."

When a handful of disgruntled people can get up and gripe to the Student Council at any regular meeting, what is the use of wasting time and money throwing an extravagant feed? About all the Gripe Dinner amounts to is one "swell" social evening. Entertainment is provided by grippers who get up and shoot off their mouths on subjects about which they are either misinformed or don't know anything.

There is no denial of the fact that San Jose State college is known as one of the leading progressive schools on the west coast. If the college administration feels that the department heads are qualified to run their departments, then there shouldn't be any allowance of interference by a minority group which feels that it is being persecuted unjustly.

When the time rolls around for another Gripe Dinner, the students should tell the Council, that by abolishing the dinner, some of the student body's rather slim budget could be saved. Anyway, why spoil some people's poor dispositions more than necessary by over-feeding them?

Symphony Presents
Bruce Stewart,
Singing Star

Bruce Stewart, appearing with the college symphony orchestra tonight, is an "old hand" at this singing business. Chalked up to his credit on past performances are the lead in "Merry Wives of Windsor" produced by the Stanford Opera group in 1945, and appearance with the San Francisco Opera company chorus in 1945 and '46.

He has been studying voice for five years, and intends to follow music professionally. His goal is to "someday sing at the Met." At one time, Bruce had the privilege of singing for Ezio Pinza and George Sebastian who encouraged him to continue his study of music.

According to Miss Maurine Thompson, college vocal instructor, Bruce has a splendid bass voice with excellent dramatic power and understanding. At present, he is a soloist in a Burlingame church choir.

Bruce was recently heard at the college vocal recital presented by the advanced vocal students. Tonight he will present the arias "In Diesen Heiligen Hallen" from Mozart's Magic Flute, and the "Il Lacerato Spirito" from Verdi's Simon Boccanegra.

He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha and will appear with this group Thursday when it presents its annual concert.

composed of Fred Forrest, Elmer Irving, and himself.

All of the committee but Kerr withdrew from carrying through with the final venture: that of picketing J. C. Penney company.

"Furthermore," Kerr continued, "the AYD did not enter into any sort of agreement with the Retail Clerks' Union. Some of our members decided that the department store was displaying unfair labor tactics, and we took it upon ourselves to picket Penney's."

Kerr maintained his former stand that, in actuality, the American Youth for Democracy could not be blamed as a group for carrying through with the demonstration.

There was no denial from Kerr that most of the student picketers were, in fact, regular members of the campus AYD.

SUPER SPARTAN

Dr. Heber A. Sotzin, director of Industrial Arts at San Jose State college, named his choice for Super Spartan honors without a second thought. "Why, John Lindquist. The man's outstanding!" And so, John Lindquist it is.

Some departments have a tough time choosing a Super Spartan, others just naturally take their time, regardless of deadlines, copy shortages, and editors with high blood pressure. The Industrial Arts department and its director fit neither of these categories.

John Lindquist, like most men overhead cranes for the Bethlehem Steel corporation in San Francisco. In January of 1944, John lost his right arm in an industrial accident at the Bethlehem plant. He rested until July. Started in the fall of 1945, maintenance man Jack Lindquist of Turlock and San Francisco, became industrial art student John R. Lindquist, San Jose State college. Majoring in Industrial Arts, with an eye to a teaching credential and a position instructing woodwork or mechanical drawing, John has gone through his four year program in rapid fashion. He plans to graduate next fall, completing the course in three years.

There are a couple of people in apartment 28 at Spartan Village who have a special interest in our Super Spartan of this week—Mrs. John R. Lindquist and four and one-half year old Shanna. John has been married for seven years, and happily too. What wife wouldn't be happy with a husband who turns out a five piece bedroom set as a woodworking project? Just one of the projects he has undertaken while in training in the IA department, the bedroom set was started in his first year at State, and all pieces but the night stand have been completed.

In addition to a couple of loyal rooters at home, John has more boosters on the Industrial Arts faculty. Dr. Sotzin thinks John "is tops." "It shows what hard work and persistence can do toward overcoming a physical handicap." A most fitting tribute to John Lindquist, Super Spartan.

in the upper division these days, is older than the average student of a few years back. He was born near Turlock, California in 1916, and educated in the San Francisco city schools at Fairmont, Horace Mann, and Mission.

John graduated from Mission high school in 1934 and went to work as an auto mechanic. He served in this field for seven years both as an apprentice and tradesman. In 1942 our Super Spartan became a maintenance man on

"A Story of Copper" is the title of the technicolor-sound movie to be shown this afternoon at 3:20 in room 210 of the Library.

The graphic story begins with the mining of the mineral at Morenci, Arizona, and continues to the underground mining operations and to the smelter and electrolytic refinery.

The picture shows the complete steps in the production of the finished copper into products.

TRACK CAPTAINS TOLD TO LIST TEAM ENTRIES

Coach Bud Winter announced today that all interclass track captains should have a good idea of how they will spot their men in events to assure a "smooth" runoff of Thursday and Friday's meet.

Football Mentor Bill Hubbard will be the official starter while Bob Bronzan and Milton Lanyon will be judges at the finish. All men who are interested in acting as officials are urged to contact Coach Winter as soon as possible.

Only rule which will be strictly enforced is the "novice-senior" regulation. That rule is as follows: Any man who has competed in junior college or for San Jose State college in track and field must enter the senior division. Infraction of this rule will automatically disqualify the interclass track squads.

JAYVEE PROSPECTS

Track Coach Winter also stated that if enough interest is shown in the interclass meet, a JayVee cinder team will be organized. This JayVee squad will compete with other JayVee outfits, junior college, and high school teams.

Proselyting athletes for the interclass track meet is ENCOURAGED for the novice class only. The fraternities and sororities are getting behind the track teams and giving them good support.

SEVEN EVENTS

Thursday's events will be as follows: 1320 yard dash, 75 yard dash, high hurdles, 352 yard dash, shot put, high jump, and javelin throw.

Wrestlers Add Southern Team To Schedule

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

A big treat and surprise is in store for wrestling fans, according to Coach Ted Mumby. The championship Southwestern area grappling team, the Southwestern College of Technology from Weatherford, Oklahoma, will battle the Spartan matmen in the local gym Monday, April 7.

The Oklahomans are coached by Ross Flood, who took the 125 pound Intercollegiate championship in 1935. Coach Flood also was a member and captain of the 1936 Olympic wrestling team.

Both squads are entered in the National AAU wrestling classic, which is being held in San Francisco this year on April 11-12. This match probably will be closely watched by college wrestling experts, who follow the AAU wrestling events, Coach Mumby said.

A special feature attraction has been promised for the fans during the Southwestern College of Technology-Spartan wrestling match.

Meanwhile, the Spartans are diligently preparing for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tournament.

SPARTAN NINE FACES USE DONS HERE THURSDAY

With three games played, Coach Walt McPherson begins preparations today for two games this week at Municipal stadium. Thursday, the Spartans play U.S.F. and Saturday a return match with Johnny Vergez' St. Mary's Gaels.

The Spartans now have a record of one victory and two defeats. McPherson has worked his entire pitching staff with the exception of Hal Sonntag who may be ready for the Saturday game. He has a new addition to the pitching staff, being Bob Pifferini who plays the outfield and first in his spare time. Pifferini set the Indians down Friday with one hit and no runs in his three innings on the mound.

Rest of the team seems set with the infield starting to round into shape after three games under its belt. The combination of Clark, Pifferini, and Lopes or Malato have started to shape up and will be ready by the time that the conference opens on March 22 against Cal Poly.

Maloney, Duarte, Romero, and Burtner, all have looked impressive on their work on the mound but still need more work on control and conditioning.

FROSH SWIMMERS FACE SEQUOIA HI

Coach Charlie Walker's freshman swimming team will face Sequoia high school this afternoon in the local pool at 4. The frosh mermen will be seeking their second straight victory at the hands of the invaders.

Tomorrow night the Spartan varsity swimmers will tangle with the University of California mermen in the Spartan pool at 8.

The Cal swimmers always have a strong team and are rated among the tops in the Pacific Coast conference, as well as the Bay area, year after year.

The Spartans will be seeking their first win in three starts against the Bears. San Jose lost to Stanford, rated one of the best college teams in the nation, and Fullerton junior college, one of the best in Southern California.

With the return of Don Thomsen, who was impressive in his first competition this season against Fullerton, the Spartan chances have risen, according to Coach Walker.

Thomsen swam a close third in the 50 yard sprint last Thursday night to team-mate Tudor Bogart.

SPARTAN BOXERS LOSE TWO MEN FOR PCI

By WILBUR AGEE

San Jose State college will go into the Pacific Intercollegiate Boxing tournament at Sacramento tomorrow night weakened by the loss of Al Figg and Charles Townsend.

Figg, Spartan 145 pounder on whom Coach Dee Portal was depending to pick up points, received a cut eye against Nevada and will not be ready tomorrow. Townsend, 1942 PCI winner at 135 pounds, will be out of the lineup due to an injured nose.

Heading San Jose's entries will be Wayne Fontes, Spartan 165 pounder, who is undefeated in nine starts. Another on whom Coach Portal is counting to bring the title to San Jose, is hard hitting Bob Anderson, 145, who has a record of six victories against one loss. Rudy Aguirre, with a season record of four wins and no setbacks, will carry the Spartan colors at 125 pounds.

Walt Meyer, with three wins and one draw, will enter the tourney at 175 pounds. Gray McConnell, Spartan heavyweight, will represent San Jose in the unlimited class. Ray Davilla, with a record of five wins and one loss, will be at 130 pounds.

Bud Roberts will draw the assignment in the 155 pound class for the Spartans and Dave Gray will replace Townsend at 135 pounds.

Idaho, the tourney favorite by virtue of its defeat over the Spartans, will be minus three regulars but are still the team to beat. San Jose is among the top.

STATE NETMEN BATTLE SF JAYSEE THIS AFTERNOON

Coach Ted Mumby's varsity tennis squad seeks its second straight victory this afternoon as it travels to San Francisco to meet the highly touted San Francisco junior college Rams.

Rained out at San Mateo last Friday evening, the Spartans hope to get in a game or two this week before they face the UCLA Bruins in Los Angeles on Friday afternoon.

Six Spartans have been named to face the Rams. They are Gene Franco, Don McKenzie, Greg Sargent, Ed Terry, Everett Sawyer, and Bob Brokop.

The cancelled contest with San Mateo will be replayed at a later date.
